1. Introduction

The Freedom of information Act

Information Commissioner's Office: www.ico.gov.uk

The Freedom of Information Act gives the public a general right of access to information held by public authorities. Every public authority is required to adopt and maintain a publication scheme which has been approved by the Information Commissioner and to publish information in accordance with that scheme.

The Information Commissioner's Office (ICO) has now introduced a model publication scheme that all public sector organizations should adopt from 1 January 2009.

In addition to adopting the generic model publication scheme, authorities must produce a guide to the specific information they hold and which is contained within any of the scheme's seven classes:

- Who we are and what we do
- What we spend and how we spend it
- What our priorities are and how we are doing
- How we make decisions
- Our policies and procedures
- Lists and registers
- The services we offer

It is expected that the information can be easily identified and accessed by the general public. Authorities should commit to reviewing and updating their information guide and its contents on a regular basis.

Much Birch Parish Council adopted the generic model publication scheme at the Council meeting held on 5th February 2009

The Publication Scheme

The Publication Scheme sets out information that is routinely made available. Information held that is not listed in the Guide to Information section of this document can still be requested and will be made available unless it is exempt material or can otherwise be legitimately withheld. Such requests should be made in writing or by email to the Parish Clerk, who will confirm whether the information requested is held and will normally supply it within 20 working days, in the format requested. Charges for disbursements, where applicable for hard copies, are shown in the Guide to Information.

Model Publication Scheme

This model publication scheme has been prepared and approved by the Information Commissioner. It may be adopted without modification by any public authority without further approval and will be valid until further notice.

This publication scheme commits an authority to make information available to the public as part of its normal business activities. The information covered is included in the classes of information mentioned below, where this information is held by the authority. Additional assistance is provided to the definition of these classes in sector specific guidance manuals issued by the Information Commissioner.

The scheme commits an authority:

- To proactively publish or otherwise make available as a matter of routine, information, including environmental information, which is held by the authority and falls within the classifications below.
- To specify the information which is held by the authority and falls within the classifications below.
- To proactively publish or otherwise make available as a matter of routine, information in line with the statements contained within this scheme.
- To produce and publish the methods by which the specific information is made routinely available so that it can be easily identified and accessed by members of the public.
- To review and update on a regular basis the information the authority makes available under this scheme.
- To produce a schedule of any fees charged for access to information which is made proactively available.
- To make this publication scheme available to the public.
