Local News

As reported last month, John Danks died on 8th February at the age of 85 years. The Crematorium at Hereford was full and overflowing on 23rd February for a Service of Thanksgiving for his life, conducted by Rev. Tim Shelley of Ross-on-Wye Baptist church. John's early life was spent on the outskirts of London just in Kent. During World War II he declined to serve in the armed forces but joined the Fire Boat Service on the Thames during the blitz on London and moved later to join the Auxiliary Fire Service (later to be the National Fire Service) in Coventry until the end of the war. He settled in Warwickshire and married his first wife and they had a son, Jez and a daughter. Sadly, in the space of a few years, John's wife and their daughter both died. Later, John met and married Gill and they moved to Wrigglebrook lane, Kings Thorn with son, Ben, in the early 1970's. Subsequently, Becky and Ruth were born and all three children attended Much Birch School. Ben went on to study Art and Becky to University. Jez recalled that both he and his father had a great love of music and spent much time together walking in the countryside. Ben told of the happy family holidays in the caravan, usually in Wales, and particularly on the Gower coast. John was very much a countryman and always wanted to live a 'self-sufficient' lifestyle and dreamed of eventually settling down on the smallholding. When the family moved to Glendene on Wrigglenbrook Pitch, John had a large garden in which he grew fruit and vegetables, which he exhibited at the Annual Show and he also kept poultry.

John was elected to the Village Hall Committee at an Open Village meeting in January 1977 when it was decided to re-open the Hall and edited the first Newsletter in February 1977. The Newsletter appeared every month with John as Editor, Gill typing the copy, Ian Porter printing the copies and the Danks family walking around the village to deliver to each household. This continued for many years until the Resource Centre opened at Much Birch and the printing was done there and a few others joined in distributing the Newsletter which helped the Danks family somewhat in a very onerous task each month. John helped with the Jubilee Celebrations centred around the Hall in June 1977, was a tireless worker in the staging of the Mini-Agricultural Show in September and organised a public fireworks display in November 1977. The whole village rallied round to support these events as well as other functions in what proved to be a very hectic year. John continued as Editor until 1995, a fine record, until the family moved to Ross.

He was also very interested in the Resettlement of Young Offenders and used his gardening skills to teach in local prisons over many years.

The Danks family were active members of the Methodist Chapel in Little Birch and later at Ross-on-Wye Baptist Church and John's Christian faith was unswerving to the end. He will be greatly missed by a very wide circle of friends and we send to Gill, Jez, Ben, Becky and Ruth, grandchildren Reuben and Jay and John's sister, Margaret Sutton, our deepest sympathies.

A number of friends have been in hospital recently and it is good to report that most have returned home to recuperate and hopefully missed the dreaded infections which have been prevalent in the County Hospital. Several friends have and still are travelling to Cheltenham each day and we ask for your prayers for a successful outcome after their treatment.

Little Birch Lanes

Several complaints have been received by Little Birch Parish Council concerning the use of local lanes. A minority of locals and 'others' are driving along these lanes during wet weather as a 'short cut' or for fun in 4 x 4's leaving these lanes impossible to use. As a number of these lanes provide necessary access for local businesses and homes, the Parish Council request that drivers use these local lanes responsibly. Failure to do so will become quite divisive, in a small community such as ours. Co-operation rather than confrontation is essential.

History Group

Little Birch and King's Thorn History Group sent a copy of their book Little Birch on Aconbury Hill to Prince Charles since the Duchy of Cornwall own land adjacent to the parish. We received a very nice letter of thanks in which he sends his very best wishes to the community of the parish of Little Birch. Copies of the book continue to be available at local bookshops, the Castle Inn and The Pilgrim, also from Alison Clarke 01981 540791.

Michael Lacey writes to say

"My dad used to recite a poem that he learned as a child, the first part of which was:

Us comes from Luch Birch which be Hereford way

And to sing you a song I been asked...

I've not tried to sing for this many a day,

An' I'd thought as my song days was passed.

But I'll tell, if I may, of an outing one day
When to Lunnun us goes by the train
Farmer Hayseed, he paid an' he gives us
the day

An' I hopes as he'll do so again.

There was Simon, there was Sis,

There Was Lisa there was Liz

There was _____ there was _____

An' Mother Miles,

An' the farmer says to me,

Now, you're in charge you see,

So bring them all home safe,

Gaffer Giles

He always said that the town was really Much Birch but the name was changed to protect the innocent.

My brothers and I have, for some time, wanted to find this recitation (more than a poem) and it occurred to me that there might be someone there that knew it? Replies to the Editor, please.

‘Unhealthy honey’ adverts banned

(Extracted from Bee Craft Newsletter to members).

NEW rules preventing the advertising of unhealthy foods on TV to protect children have caused a backlash in the grocery trade.

Ofcom (the Office of Communications), the independent TV watchdog, set up the new guidelines to combat childhood obesity by banning adverts for junk food and soft drinks. But the move has turned into a ‘catch-all’ policy, inadvertently affecting goods including honey, Marmite, cheese, raising, tomato ketchup and most breakfast cereals.

Now the judging criteria have been slammed as ‘absurd’ by industry magazine ‘The Grocer’, which has started ‘Weigh it up!’ campaign, urging the Food Standards Agency to conduct an urgent review into its “Nutrient Profiling Model”, used by Ofcom to judge what foodstuffs are fit for children.

“The problem is the NPM classifies all foods using a 100g (just under 4oz) measurement, regardless of the typical portion sizes” says The Grocer editor, Adam Leyland, “it makes no distinction between natural sugar (raw cane sugar) and processed sugar (white) and fails to take into account any minerals, vitamins and antioxidants”. Under those rules, 100g of honey, with its high (natural) sugar content, is deemed unhealthy. Yet non-nutritious products such as diet cola, white bread and even chicken nuggets, would still be allowed.

“This sends out too many wrong signals”, said Mr Leyland, “encouraging manufacturers to develop products full of artificial sweeteners and additives, while unfairly targeting many wholesome and nutritious products”.

“The Grocer’s campaign follows protests by the National Farmers’ Union and an all-party Parliamentary group. But the Food Standards Agency says it stands by the NPM, which “has undergone scientific scrutiny and been openly consulted on”.

Honey has been used as a food since the time of the Pharaohs and during the First World War, was used on infected wounds. I still cover any burns from oven shelves etc with honey overnight and in the morning there’s no sign of the burn or a scar! As no one eats 4oz of honey in one sitting or even in making a cake, how can this wonderfully pure product with no additives be banned by the bureaucratic body Ofcom because the NPM has got its classification wrong! I would rather give my grandchildren a pot of honey to eat sparingly on bread and toast rather than a packet of high sugar (not natural) packet cereal. (Name and address supplied)

Neighbourhood Watch

Burglary Dwellings

A burglary occurred at a house in Madley on 20th February. A local man has been arrested and is currently on police bail for this crime.

Burglary Buildings

An outbuilding was broken into on a farm in Blakemere and chainsaws were stolen.

Vehicle Crime

Minor damage caused to one vehicle near Longtown, but apart from this no other vehicle crime this month.

Theft

Two child’s pedal cycles were stolen from outside an address in Lowfield Meadow, Kingstone during February. Anyone who has information about this incident please contact one of your local police officers.

Offenders are still engaged in stealing items made from different types of metal, for the current high scrap value. A stainless steel tank was taken from a farmyard in Didley off the A465, and heavy metal tractor weights were stolen from near a house in Preston on Wye.

Court Result

Herefordshire Council with the assistance of Peterchurch Police Officers recently brought a case to court against a 66yr old local man, who had been illegally residing in a caravan on Lower Maes-Coed Common.

On leaving the area, following legal action, this man left behind a considerable amount of rubbish and abandoned vehicles including a caravan. He failed to attend Herefordshire Magistrates Court for the trial but was found guilty in his absence. An arrest warrant was issued and this man was arrested and taken to court and then sentenced for dumping offences. He was given a conditional discharge for two years and ordered to pay £250 towards compensation for clearing up the site. I hope this will provide some consolation to the local residents who have suffered for over two years, as a result of the behaviour of this man and his wife living illegally on the common.

Mobile Phones and driving – New Penalties

Motorists should all be aware that the use of a hand-held phone or similar hand-held device while driving is prohibited, even if stopped at traffic lights or in a queue of traffic.

From 27th February 2007, new penalties were introduced and you will now receive a £60 fine and three penalty points on your licence.

Some typical questions and answers:

Q. “Is hands-free phone equipment allowed?”

A. Provided that the phone can be operated without holding it, then yes. If the phone is in a cradle then you can push a button to answer it as long as you don’t hold the phone to operate it.

Q. “What about texting/internet access/video phones?”

A. The use of a mobile phone or similar device for any of these activities while driving is prohibited.

Q. “Will mobile phones have to be switched off in vehicles?”

A. No. Passengers may want to use them, and a driver may use them when they are safely parked.

Q. “Who do the regulations apply to?”

A. Drivers of all motor vehicles on a road, including cars, motorcycles, goods vehicles, buses, coaches, taxis and drivers supervising learners.

Q. “Are there any exemptions?”

A. Yes. There is an exemption for 999 calls in a genuine emergency, where it is unsafe or impractical to stop.

Q. “Can I cradle the phone between my ear and shoulder?”

A. No. The offence applies if a phone has to be “held” while making or receiving a call. Therefore you should not hold the phone between your ear and shoulder – or anywhere else – when driving.

Q. “Where can I get more information?”

A. From the Department for Transport or their website – www.dft.gov.uk

And finally on a lighter note.....

A police control room received a frantic call from a man who needed urgent assistance following a crime at his home. Two officers were dispatched to the scene to help the caller, a Mr Wright. As they approached the address a local resident called to the officers: “Looking for Mr Wright?”. Quick as a flash the female police officer replied “Aren’t we all.”
